

DATA PROTECTION NOTICE

WE ARE ALL PART OF THE SOLUTION

IN ORDER TO MONITOR THE EVOLUTION OF THE PANDEMIC,

the Luxembourg government has started a new phase of the Large Scale Testing (LST) programme. At present, testing is the most effective way to help break the chains of infection by identifying positive cases and effectively tracing their contacts. In this regard, the personal data of the residents and cross-border workers invited to participate, and of the participants in the testing are collected and processed by the following four data controllers (i.e. the entity that determines the purposes and means of processing personal data):

The Luxembourg Health Directorate, because it defines the strategy, coordinates the programme and analyses the personal data of the participants in order to monitor the process and make epidemiological decisions as well as appropriate public health policy decisions.

The Laboratoires Réunis, which are responsible for organising samples, taking samples, carrying out tests, from making appointments to sending results.

The General Inspectorate of Social Security as it identifies the categories of people to be invited to the testing programme.

The National Health Laboratory, which will carry out the analyses as part of the serological tests.

PERSONAL DATA

may be transferred by the various stakeholders involved to the following categories of recipients:

- The Government IT Centre (CTIE), in charge of sending out invitations and providing the appointment scheduling platform;
- LDL CONNECT SA, in charge of providing a hotline for all questions relating to the Large Scale Testing;
- The General Inspectorate of Social Security, which pseudonymises the data in order to make them available to public research bodies for the purpose of making projections to observe the evolution of the pandemic and to produce monitoring charts (for example: monitoring the positivity rate by municipality, by age group, or by professional sector);
- The eSanté Agency, which is responsible for ensuring the technical transfer of test results to the Health Inspection Division of the Luxembourg Health Directorate;
- The Health Inspection Division of the Luxembourg Health Directorate, which receives test results in order to ensure not only the tracing but also the epidemiological monitoring of the pandemic, and
- The National Health Laboratory which, as a reference laboratory, can receive the positive samples in order to do the genetic sequencing of the virus to determine the variant.

PERSONAL DATA

will be kept by each stakeholder for a period not exceeding that necessary for the purposes pursued, in accordance with their respective legal obligations. For instance, the Luxembourg Health Directorate retains personal data on the basis of the requirements of the law of 23 SEPTEMBER 2020 amending the amended law of 17 JULY 2020 on measures to COMBAT THE COVID-19 PANDEMIC.

Each individual whose data is processed has the right to request access to his or her personal data and to obtain a copy of it and, in the event that the personal data is incomplete or erroneous, to have it corrected. They also have the right to limit the processing of their personal data, the right to object to their use and the right to obtain their erasure, under the conditions and within the limits laid down by the General Data Protection Regulation.

It is possible to request to exert the rights listed above by submitting a written request, signed and with proof of identity.
